From the Pastor

One of my jobs as a child/teen was to put the inoculate on the soybeans. We had an oblong wash tub that was used; put in the correct amount of beans for the small bag of inoculate and then with my hands I would mix the beans till they had turned dark from the inoculate, which helps the beans to have nitrogen as they grow.

I suppose we could say this season of Lent is inoculate for our spiritual life. We still continue to grow in the spiritual life all through the year but our sacrifices in this penitential season mixed in with our prayer life help us to have more opportunities to sense that we are receiving the grace of God at work in us. I see this in the first reading as the Lord says, "I will place my law within them and write it upon their hearts." You may have made the connection already.. "unless a grain of wheat..." In our lives, we help our spiritual self to grow with the inoculate of God's grace. In order to do that we have to do a little dying to self so that we can let God in to bring us life, so that we can produce much fruit.

This dying to self does not necessarily mean we have to change who we are, it may mean more that we are changing the way we live our life, living with "Christ in us" rather than living just "us". The grain of wheat does not grow by itself, it needs moisture and sun in order to die to self and change into the blade of wheat which later changes and produces more grain. In our lives, we do not live and grow on our own. We live in community and family which help us to recognize who we are and what we can become. May the grace of God continue to help us also, die to self and 'become' the person we will be tomorrow.
