From the Pastor

Just today as I was talking to someone, the subject of "The Clothes Closet" came into conversation. I mentioned that I need to go thru my clothes closet and weed out those things that I have not used for some time. Taking for granted that The Clothes Closet does not need any old faded clergy shirts, there are other items in my closet that someone could possibly take advantage of, even if that means using them as grease rags. Since I don't have to keep up with fashion, some of what I have does not fit into any category of 'how old is this?' Part of the reason I don't 'go thru the closet' is that I procrastinate, another is that once in a while I will throw something out that I know needs to go. Sometimes I just realize that in some areas of my life I am not the giving kind of person. Yes I am giving, I do donate to things like church and some organizations. There are other times when I am weak and want to retain control of "my" world, my things... as if they were mine. Were Christ to ask of me what he asked of the rich man in the parable lesson for today, that I sell all of my possessions to follow him, I wonder if I might be able to do so? I would like to think so. The young man in the Gospel asks what he needs to do to inherit eternal life; we all want our eternity to be in heaven. So Jesus asks unconditional love; that we be attached to nothing else but that thought of heaven. That is where we get into trouble; it is hard in this world to not think of things of this world. Our faith calls us to be 'narrow minded', that is, our emphasis on life must be with things of the spiritual. No, we do not have to throw out our cell phone or our tablet or any other thing...if they lead us to want more of what God has for us. In spite of our weaknesses, God loves us. May we be looking for those unconditional ways of loving God in return.

SUPPORT FOR MADISON

St. Michael's parishioner Madison Smith, daughter of Hank and Carrie Smith, would appreciate your prayers and support as she prepares for her upcoming mission. To follow her experiences, you can read Madison's blog at www.madisonelaine.home.blog. You can also help support her financially by sending donations to Family Missions Co., 12624 Everglade Rd., Abbeville, LA 70510. You can also receive weekly updates and contribute online at www.madisonsmith.familymissionscompany.com. Madison is going into the world representing our parish family, let us support her as she dedicates herself to serving God's children.

KNOW YOUR FAITH

Are you interested in learning more about your Catholic faith? OR do you know someone who is not Catholic that is thinking about learning more about what and why we believe the way we believe...with the possible option to join us in the faith? Catch me after Mass or call me and we can discuss more details...Peace, Fr. Floyd
