WITHIN THE WORD

Leaping for Joy

“For at the moment the sound of your greeting reached my ears, the infant in my womb leaped for joy.” (Luke 1:44)

There are certain persons in our lives who, when we see them or hear their voices, make our hearts skip a beat with delight. They are the ones who can make us laugh when everything seems gray. They are the ones who have strong arms and soft hearts, who wrap us in a smothering bear hug that makes everything seem alright. They are the wise ones who have weathered many a storm and whose assurances that all will be well can be trusted absolutely. Such is the meeting of Mary and Elizabeth in the Visitation scene (Luke 1:39-45, Sunday and Tuesday). The moment Elizabeth heard Mary’s voice, both her own heart and the babe in her womb leaped for joy. Mary undoubtedly felt the same.

Often times we imagine Mary, the younger of the two, hastening from Galilee to Judea out of concern and generosity to help her older relative, who is coping with pregnancy at an advanced age. Without discounting this aspect of their encounter, we may also envision Elizabeth as the wise figure of an elder mentor, who wraps the bewildered teenage mother-to-be in her strong embrace, offering her wisdom and strength in a difficult time. God’s timing is difficult for both women. How much easier it would have been for Elizabeth had her child come when her body was more limber and supple. How much easier it would have been for Mary had her child arrived after her marriage to Joseph.

In a culture in which a woman was esteemed for the male children she bore, Elizabeth likely endured accusatory glances and unkind comments throughout her life as people wondered why God was punishing her with barrenness. Likewise, in Mary’s village, Nazareth, the gossip about her probably started flying once her condition was known. Elizabeth, who has been utterly faithful to God all her life long (Luke 1:6), despite the suffering she has endured, is the perfect companion for Mary. She helps Mary learn to trust even more deeply the mysterious ways of God, as she endures the many difficulties that come with saying yes to God.

In like manner, we too carry the mysterious power of God’s life within us, which enables us to be a source of delight and blessing for others. When we abandon ourselves to the mysterious ways of God, it is not only for ourselves that the new life within is given. We are meant to be companions to one another, a source of mutual joy, wisdom, and strength.

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTIONS

Leap With Joy

Mi 5:1-4a / Heb 10:5-10 / Lk 1:39-45

The astonishment of Elizabeth in today’s Gospel is easily understood when we know that the visitor in Mary’s womb was the Son of God Incarnate. So great was Elizabeth’s joy that the child in her own womb, John the Baptist, leaped at the sound of Mary’s voice. Our own hearts should be aflutter as the Nativity of Our Lord approaches. Just as Elizabeth and the infant John were blessed by the visit of their Lord and Redeemer, we too have been blessed by the gift of Our Savior. Let us leap with joy and receive Him.

PREGNANT, STRONG, AND FAITHFUL

I love the meeting of Mary and Elizabeth, a rare depiction of pregnant women in Scripture. Both pregnancies defy social norms: Elizabeth is too old, and Mary is a young virgin. Salvation history depends on them, for each bears a miracle within her: John, the last of the prophets foretelling the Messiah, and Jesus the Savior, the Son of God.

Although art often shows Mary as fragile, she must have been sturdy and strong to climb those steep Judean hills. Then as now, pregnancy and childbirth are messy and dangerous, and these women are risking their lives to give birth to John and Jesus. We need to see them as pregnant for that reason, even though their state points to “the scandal” of the incarnation.

That scandal, that God relied on female flesh to come into the world, is often revealed in a paradox. We gladly celebrate Jesus’ birth at Christmas, but images of Mary depicting her “baby bump” can be criticized as sacrilegious. Contemporary women, too, experience a dichotomy. As recently as forty years ago, married women teaching in Christian schools—both Protestant and Roman Catholic—were expected (and sometimes forced) to leave once their pregnancy became visible.

So let’s celebrate Mary and Elizabeth—pregnant women, greeting each other with the words God gave them. Both are blessed because, against all odds, they believed that what God promised them would be fulfilled. Let us be willing to use the bodies God gave us to help bring Christ into the world.
